MINAKI NEWS

February 22, 1990

Dear Minaki News:

When I opened my mail box the other day I was Very happy to see the Minaki News inside. Even though it has not been around for some time, I kept hoping that one day it would be printed once again. We, (my partner, Jack Jaster and I, and our group) have been coming to Minaki for over twenty years to fish.

Over these years we have made a lot of friends. During the winter months, we always wonder what our friends and the people of MINAKI are doing. Reading the MINAKI NEWS lets us know whats going on. So, I hope that the paper will do well in its new fresh start and can continue. We wish it and you people involved with it, good luck.

Our winter started out very cold in December, however January has been very mild with many spring like days. Not much snow left but we hope for a good spring rain fall. We look foward to our fall fishing trip, and to seeing our friends every year in MINAKI, so, again We wish you luck with the paper, and thank you for getting it started once again.
